

Women Mentoring Women

Women Mentoring Women is a program developed by the Chattanooga Women's Leadership Institute (WLI) with the purpose of teaching mentors how to mentor. It specifically offers training to potential mentors or those who have done mentoring and would still like to learn more about either: (1) mentoring more women with leadership potential or (2) having a deeper and broader understanding of ways they can contribute in the mentoring process.

Commitment from the Participant

The CWLI Mentoring Project requires a commitment of time and energy. Because this program has been designed to provide personal and career benefits for you, you are expected to attend each session. Should an emergency arise that precludes your attendance at a session, please call 266-0382 and let the Chattanooga Women's Leadership Institute know in advance of the session.

The training sessions are held bi-monthly, 11:00 am – 1:00 pm (lunch is provided). The schedule for the next session is available on our website (www.cwli.org), or can be sent to you via e-mail director@cwli.org or by calling 423.266.0382 . Selected participants will be notified by mail or e-mail if they have been accepted to the class. Upon acceptance, the $400.00 tuition is due. (10% must be paid by program participant.)

Once the series has begun, the tuition fee is non refundable.
